Give the gift of time to someone you love by asking them to tell you a story about when they were young ... and make sure to really listen!